

THE EVENING BULLETIN

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1885.

ALL Europe is becoming alarmed at the threatened spread of the cholera epidemic.

CATLETSBURG's business last year footed up exports, $1,142,404; imports, $943,779; total, $2,086,183.

The fruit crop of all kinds throughout California, excepting a few sections, will be large and of good condition.

MALCOM HAY, First Assistant Postmaster General, is in such bad health that his friends advise him to resign.

In consequence of the rate war between the railroads a round trip ticket from Cincinnati to New York, may be had for ten dollars.

The cholera is spreading to an alarming extent in the cities of Spain. In three of them in one day 632 new cases were reported with 151 deaths.

A WASHINGTON despatch says that the Covington Collectorship has not yet been under consideration. The announcement was premature that an appointment had been made.

Last year the wheat crop of the State was estimated at $13,500,000 bushels. This year it is hardly worthy the name of a crop, the yield being estimated at 3,000,000 bushels.

Ex-CONGRESSMAN PHIL THOMPSON, it is said, recently received a fee of $5,000 in one case that he brought to a successful termination. This is almost as much as his salary for a year amounted to while serving in Congress.

THE Democracy of Maysville is peculiar. A few years ago one's political status there was fixed by his opinion as to who mutilated the Rowan County records. Just now it is a question, in the same town, whether a man whose father-in-law voted last year for a Republican is a Democrat. Whenever the time comes for a new party to be formed upon original ideas Maysville will be a good starting point.—[Louisville Commercial.]

THE Court of Appeals has reversed the decision of the Louisville Chancery Court in the case of Harrison, Assessor of Jefferson County, and his securities vs. the Commonwealth. This is a case of importance to every Assessor in the State. In 1883 and 1884 Harrison collected from the State $18,000 for reporting the names of persons to the State Auditor, who owned no taxable property. The State claimed that under the law fixing the compensation of Assessors they were allowed fifteen cents for only each person who owned taxable property, and brought suit against Harrison and his sureties for this sum and recovered judgment for this amount. Harrison appealed, and the Court of Appeals reversed the decision, with instructions to dismiss the petition filed by the attorneys for the State. The Supreme Court virtually holds that under the general statutes, assessors are entitled to fifteen cents for each person whom they report to the State Auditor, whether they own any property or not.

The following information concerning the Revenue offices is printed by the Covington Commonwealth:

"The following is taken from the regulations now in force, as embraced in a circular issued in 1883 by Hon. William Windom, then Secretary of the Treasury:

Of Collectors of Internal Revenue: Hereafter, in recommending persons for appointment to the office of Storekeeper, Gauger or Inspector of Tobacco, Snuff and Cigars Collector of Internal Revenue will require each person recommended to make an application in writing, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, stating his age, legal residence, place of nativity, service in the army or navy, if any, names of relatives, if any, in the government service, and in what capacity employed; experience in the duties of the office for which he applies; business in which engaged at date of application, and interest which he proposes to retain therein if appointed. The application must be accompanied by testimonials as to character for sobriety, industry and business habits of the applicant, and will be enclosed in a letter addressed by the Collector of the district to the Secretary of the Treasury and forwarded to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue stating the necessity for the appointment, and his personal knowledge as to the fitness of the applicant for the position.

The pay of Gaugers does not exceed $5 per day, and to earn that amount they must gauge 1,000 gallons. They are appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury and are commissioned officers, but he may not be favored with a continuous assignment. No assignment, no pay.

The pay of a Storekeeper is $1 per day when assigned to duty.

The pay of a Storekeeper and Gauger ranges from $2 to $4 per day when assigned to duty. He is required to give bond to the United States in the sum of $5,000. Gaugers give bond in the sum of $10,000 and Storekeepers the sum of $5,000. The assignments to duty are made by the Collector of Internal Revenue to those district the officer may be appointed.

The clerks in the office are generally called deputies. The cashier and stamp deputies give bond to the Collector. They are sworn into office and have authority to administer oaths in the matter pertaining to the department."

Advantageously.

[Boston Transcript.]

"Yes," said Mrs. Catchem, "Those are my daughters over there on the sofa; they have half a million between them." It was not until after they were married to those daughters that the two young men who overheard the above remark found out that Mrs. Catchem referred to the rich old codger who sat on the sofa between the girls. Mrs. Catchem could not tell a fib, but she knew how to speak the truth advantageously.

SCAFFOLD BANGLES.

Father and Son Die Together—Charles Campbell—George Schneider.

FARMERVILLE, La., June 20.—Perry and Wm. Melton, father and son, were hanged in the jail enclosure here for the murder of John W. Cherry, an old farmer, at his home in the northern part of this (Union) parish, April 15, 1884. The two murderers were neighbors of their victim, but had blood existed between them, brought about by the Meltons' jealousy of Cherry's superior social and financial position. The two families had frequent quarrels, but hostilities were delayed by old man Cherry's peaceful disposition. On the morning of the murder the Meltons were passing Cherry's farm, and discovered the old man working in his field. The elder Melton called to him that now was a good time to settle scores, and the two advanced on Cherry, who retreated and ordered them off. Finally Cherry was compelled to use a revolver, wounding the elder Melton in the arm.

His antagonists closed in on him, however, and attacked him with hoes. Cherry ran toward his residence, calling on his wife to bring out his shotgun. William Melton ran to head him off, and succeeded in reaching the house first, just as Mrs. Cherry stepped from the door with the gun. He felled her with a handspike lying in the yard, and seized the gun. Meantime Perry Melton came up and held Cherry until William had knocked him down by a dozen licks on the head. Cherry begged them to spare him. William continued to use the handspike until his victim's head was beaten almost to a jelly. Mrs. Cherry, who had just gained her feet, took her husband's head in her lap, but was brutally thrust aside. Cherry showed some signs of life, and the elder Melton told his son to finish him, which he did by crushing in his skull. The Meltons hid about the neighborhood for several weeks, finally escaping to Texas, where they were captured.

Charles Campbell.

NEW ORLEANS, June 20.—Charles Campbell, alias Red, was hanged at Pointe-a-la-Hache, Plaquemines parish, for the murder of Theodore Tuplevich, in that parish, August 24, 1884. Campbell was a brutal-looking negro, and his crime was dastardly and unpunished. Tuplevich was shot down on a country road after words with Campbell, which did not amount to even a quarrel. Although the execution was private, the little village was crowded with people from the adjacent country.

George Schneider.

HAMILTON, O., June 20.—George Schneider was hanged. His neck was broken, and he died in nine minutes.

CLUVERIUS SENTENCED.

Lillian Madi on's Foul Murderer to be Hanged on November 30.

RICHMOND, Va., June 20.—Cluverius was brought into court and took his seat as usual. His counsel were present, and the motion to continue the consideration of the motion for the arrest of judgment was overruled. The judge asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed upon him. He arose, and in a husky voice replied:

"If you sentence me you will sentence an innocent man."

The judge then pronounced the sentence in an impressive manner. The prisoner was taken back to jail and put in solitary confinement. The day set for his execution is November 30. The case can now go to the supreme court on appeal, where the bills of exception will be considered, and the question of a new trial decided.

NEW YORK.—Money at 1 1/2 per cent. Exchange dull. Governments easier. Currency sixes, 127 bid; four, coupon, 128 bid; four-and-a-half, 121 1/2 bid.

The stock market opened strong this morning, and in the early dealings advanced 1/4 to 3/4 per cent, led by Lackawanna and the Vanderbilts. Later there was a moderate reaction, in which the only advances were generally lost, and in some cases prices went a shade below the closing quotations of yesterday. This was followed before 11 o'clock by higher prices again, and at 11 o'clock the market is strong at about the best quotations of the morning. The market has been strong, especially for the Vanderbilts, which are the features of the traders.

No Wonder.

A MAN WHO SUFFERED MENTAL AND PHYSICAL AGONY EIGHT YEARS PROCLAIMS HIS HAPPINESS.

Mental agony is dreadful, but when that and physical ailment combine, it is simply terrible. Such was the condition of Geo. W. Frampton, of Huntingdon, W. Va., for eight years. He was a sufferer of necrosis—that is, the leg bone at the ankle was inflamed and mortified, which caused running sores. He says: "Pieces of bone the size of a silver three cent piece came out of the sores on my leg. The discharge from the sores was almost continual, and I was unable to walk. For eight years I have been doctoring. I had been under the treatment of a physician at Newport, Ky., for a year; another at Burlington, O., attended me for three years, and a doctor here at Huntingdon worked with me for a long time. None of them did me any good, and they all finally said my case was hopeless. A few months ago I commenced trying PERUNA, and now I am well. I can walk as good as anybody, and have perfect use of my limbs."

Mr. Alf. Lusk, Wooster, Ohio, writes: "DR. HARTMAN, Columbus, O. I have been a great sufferer from that dreaded disease, chronic catarrh of the stomach. I have thoroughly tried your MANALIN, and it has done me more good ten-fold than all the doctors' prescriptions, and I have used legions of them."

Mr. Edgar Harte, Smeltzer P. O., Elk county, Pa., writes: "I have bought several bottles of your PERUNA, and find it to be of great benefit. I also gave it to some of my friends; they experienced the same result."

Mr. L. R. Wollen, 45 and 47 Ross street, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "I am taking PERUNA with good results, and can highly recommend it to all. I have applied at the different drug stores for one of your books. They claim they have none on hand at present. Please do me the favor to send me one."

W. W. Russell, druggist, Canonsburg, Pa., writes: "I handle your medicine, PERUNA. I have sold immense quantities of it, and consider it a staple article. I have a great many customers who think there is no medicine like it for a tonic or for building up the system. I recommend it as a safe and reliable remedy."

Calista Fishel, Malvern, Ohio, writes: "I take pleasure in recommending the use of PERUNA and MANALIN to any one afflicted with any form of lung or bronchial trouble. I have been for some time afflicted with a very troublesome cough, but a few bottles of PERUNA entirely cured me."
